

DEE E. ANDREWS, Ph.D.
Professor Emerita of History
California State University, East Bay dee.andrews@csueastbay.edu

Education

Ph.D., History, University of Pennsylvania; M.A., History, University of Pennsylvania; B.A., Social Science, Bennington College

Faculty Appointments

California State University, East Bay (CSUEB) (formerly CSU Hayward), Department of History:
Assistant to Full to Emerita; Dept. Chair, 2003-2009
Pre-doctoral Visiting Lectureships at University of California, San Diego and University of Pennsylvania; Post-doctoral Visiting Lectureship, Princeton University

Post-Doctoral Fellowships

Barra Faculty Fellowship, McNeil Center for Early American Studies, University of Pennsylvania, 2015-16
Pew Faculty Fellowship in Religion & American History, Yale University, 1995-96

Book Award: 2001 Hans Rosenhaupt Memorial Book Award, Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation for The Methodists and Revolutionary America

Books in Progress: Thomas Clarkson, Author, and the Age of Abolition; Mott's Black Lives

Research Fields: Antislavery in the Atlantic World/ Religion and the American Revolution/ North Atlantic Print Culture

Research Awards: Multiple awards, including from Bibliographical Society of America; American Philosophical Society; Gilder-Lehrman Institute; Haverford College Library; Library Company of Philadelphia/ Awards and Service Relating to Teaching: Participant, CSUEB Religious Studies Initiative, funded by NEH Program for Hispanic-Serving Institutions; Member of CSUEB History Department Team, CSU Chancellor's Office Promising Course Redesign Program; Recognition for Support of Student Rights, Accessibility Center, CSUEB; Nominated as one of 5 Outstanding Professors in the Honors Program, CSUEB; twice CSUEB Content Coordinator for Words That Made America II & III, Federal Teaching American History Grants, with Alameda County Office of Education

Book

The Methodists and Revolutionary America, 1760-1800: The Shaping of an Evangelical Culture (Princeton University Press, 2000; paperback ed., 2002; + digital eds. @ Kindle, ProQuest, JSTOR)

Articles, Review Essays, and Book Reviews

40+, including book reviews in Journal of American History, William and Mary Quarterly, Journal of the Early Republic, Journal of British Studies, Church History, The History Teacher

Representative articles:

- with Celeste L. Andrews, “James Andrews’s ‘Fashionable Tour’: A Philadelphia Quaker Travels, not without Mishap, up the Hudson River to Niagara Falls and Back in the Summer of 1821,” Quaker History 110 (Spring 2021): 1-30
- “Defining a ‘Christian Nation’: or, A Case of Being Careful What You Wish For,” review of Steven K. Green, Inventing a Christian America: The Myth of the Religious Founding (Oxford: Oxford U. Press, 2015), in Common-place, 16:3 (Winter 2016), <http://commonplace.org>
- with Emma Lapsansky-Werner, “Thomas Clarkson’s Quaker Trilogy: Abolitionist Narrative as Transformative History,” in Brycchan Carey and Geoffrey Plank, eds., Quakers and Abolition (U. Illinois Press, 2014; paperback ed. 2018)
- “From Natural Rights to National Sins: Philadelphia’s Churches Face Antislavery,” in Richard Newman and James Mueller, eds., Antislavery and Abolition in Philadelphia: Emancipation and the Long Struggle for Racial Justice in the City of Brotherly Love, commissioned by Independence National Historical Park, Philadelphia (Baton Rouge: Louisiana State U. Press, 2011), 174-79
- “Benjamin Franklin Turns 301: A Review Essay,” Register of the Kentucky Historical Society 105 (Spring 2007): 247-75
- “Religion and the Revolutionary War” (lead thematic essay) in Encyclopedia of the American Revolution, ed. Harold Selesky (Charles Scribner’s Sons, 2006)

Other Professional Activities & Service

60+ conference panels and invited talks

50+ journal referee reports, doctoral examination committees, post-doctoral fellowship committees, conference program and local arrangement committees, history department outside reviews, National History Day events

Including:

- Organizer of the Friends of History, Department of History, CSUEB: including initiation of 3 department scholarships and 4 annual student awards; plus annual History Speaker event
- Co-convenor of the Bay Area Seminar in Early American History & Culture, 1990-2015: 120+ sessions organized
- Nominations Committee, Society for Historians of the Early American Republic (SHEAR), elected to 3-year term, 2008-11 (Co-Chair, 2010-11)
- Board Member, Journal of American History, elected to 3-year term, 2008-10
- Council Member, Omohundro Institute of Early American History and Culture, Williamsburg, VA, elected to 3-year term, 2007-10; Chair, Editorial Board, William & Mary Quarterly, 2008-09; Books Program, 2009-10
- Consultant for Josh Kornbluth, Franklin Unplugged: theatrical monologue performed at venues and campuses throughout the San Francisco Bay Area and New York City, 2006
- Liaison to 2006 AHA Annual Meeting for Benjamin Franklin Tercentenary Commission, Philadelphia