

FOOD INSECURITY AT CAL STATE EAST BAY

Pioneers for H.O.P.E is Cal State East Bay's basic needs program and serves students facing homelessness, food insecurity, and other crisis situations. This infographic focuses on food insecurity and was compiled by a cross-campus team who sought to draw attention to the unique population using the food pantry and the growing student interest in the CalFresh Program to supplement those students' nutritional needs.

1

According to the 2021 Campus Climate Survey, 36%

of East Bay respondents cited difficulty affording food

2

On average, East Bay students make

Over 1,000

appointments to the food pantry each semester

3

44%

of food pantry users

identify as international students

4

31%

of food pantry users

identify as URM students

5

There are currently more than 4,400

East Bay students who indicated they are interested in checking their eligibility for the CalFresh Program

Pioneers for H.O.P.E. assists with

Over 1,500

CalFresh applications for East Bay students each year

6